The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

The following Piece was deſigned for the laſt Gazette, but happening to come too late, we doubt not will now be agreeable to our Readers.

Mr. HALL,

Your inſerting the incloſed ESSAY in the next Gazette, will much oblige ſome of your Cuſtomers, and particular Friends.

To the PUBLICK.

AT a Time when America eſteems herſelf in Danger of having her Trade injured by Reſtrictions, and trembles at the Report of internal Taxes, which are eſteemed unconſtitutional, to be raiſed on the Colonies; at a Time when it is apparent to every Man of Reaſon, that the greateſt Harmony ought to be maintained among ourſelves, in order, by the united Endeavours of every Individual, to ward off the impending Stroke; ſuch is the Unhappineſs of our Province (one of the moſt powerful and opulent) that its Inhabitants, from inteſtine Feuds and Animoſities, are more intent on vilifying and abuſing each other, than concerned about averting the Blow they are likely to receive. The Change of Government in this Province, propoſed by ſome, and by others diſapproved, is a Matter that ought to engage the ſerious Attention of every conſiderate Perſon; and it would have given me Pleaſure, to have found the Expediency of that intereſting Meaſure treated in a proper Manner by thoſe who ſupport, and thoſe who oppoſe it; and altho' what Effect the Change would have on the Province in general, would have been rather conjectural than demonſtrative, yet as what has happened in the other Colonies, under the like Circumſtances, where thoſe Changes have taken Place, may probably be the Caſe in this, ſhould the Change take Effect in Pennſylvania, there was a Field opened for each Party to diſplay their Eloquence; but how amazing is it to find moſt of the Diſputants loſing Sight of the great Object, and ſinking into perſonal Abuſe, and unparallelled Scurrility!

Copperplates, anonymous Pamphlets, and Papers innumerable, the Product of malicious Incendiaries, are, to the Scandal of Civil Government, and againſt all the Rules of Decency and Decorum, hawked about in every Street; and Gentlemen, who could ſcarce ſurvive the Confuſion of being thought the Authors, from Party Zeal, or perſonal Prejudice, condeſcending to applaud Performances of the loweſt Kind, replete with every Kind of Defamation and Deſtruction. Private Occurrences in Families, or any Misfortune in them; every Defect of Nature; all which the humane worthy Man would willingly bury in eternal Oblivion, are, by theſe Peſts of Society, ſearched for, and expoſed, to ſtigmatize, and render ridiculous, the Object of the Author's particular Reſentment; and, as if they looked with envious Eyes on the Happineſs of their Neighbours, they have made an unſucceſsful Attempt to extend their baneful Influence over Delaware.

The Reverend Mr. Hervey obſerves, that the Diſputants on religious Subjects have the leaſt Charity, and preſerve leſs Temper than any others in their Arguments, and moſt readily are hurried into opprobrious Language. He ſincerely laments this as a Misfortune, and with a perſuaſive Eloquence, peculiar to himſelf, points out the Prejudice this does Religion in general, and ſhews the Neceſſity of a Reformation in that Reſpect.

Some warm Partizans in this Province, convinced of this Truth, have had the Addreſs to bring Religion into a Diſpute it is no Way connected with, and have branded each other with the Names of the Quaker and the Preſbyterian Faction, in order to raiſe implacable Animoſities between the Profeſſors of theſe two Religions; and it may have that Effect between thoſe who are zealous rather from a quick Circulation in the Blood, and ſanguine Conſtitution, than from Principles fixed on that Deliberation which the Nature of the Thing requires, and from the moſt ſerious Reflection; and theſe Kind of Zealots are much more numerous in every Society than may at firſt View be ſuppoſed. Look round among your Neighbours, and you will ſoon diſcover Men of true Piety, exemplary Lives, and general Charity, among all Societies; more perhaps in ſome than others; but why are all blended together? Some of the inflammatory Pieces are charged on the Clergy. As I know it is the Duty of the true Miniſters of Chriſt, in Imitation of their ſacred Maſter, to practiſe brotherly Love, Forgiveneſs of Injuries, and Chriſtian Charity; to impreſs them on their Hearers, in the moſt earneſt Manner, and to convince them of the Neceſſity of performing theſe important Duties, without which all their Pretences to Religion are vain and deluſive, and can only ſerve to blind weak Men: For when a Man ſets himſelf about calumniating his Neighbour, and is ever ſeeking Revenge for ſome ſlight Affront, which perhaps his own Pride only ſuggeſts has been offered him; when he pries into the Secrets of his Neighbour's Concerns, with Intent to miſrepreſent them; when he is contriving, by Slanders and Whiſperings, to ſet Friends at Variance; theſe are ſuch certain Indications of the Want of true Piety and Religion, that Men of Underſtanding can never heſitate a Moment to declare him deſtitute of Religion and Virtue. Nor can I believe that any Wretch can be ſo hardy (unleſs he be intoxicated with Pride and Paſſion) while ſuch are his Practices, to retire from the World, lay his Hand on his Breaſt, and read the Beatitudes declared in the 5th Chapter of Matthew, or the Deſcription given of the happy Man in the 15th Pſalm, without ſhuddering, from Self-conviction; I am therefore unwilling to believe, with clear Proof, that any of theſe inflammatory Performances are to be attributed to any Gentleman in holy Orders. Be that as it may, thoſe of that ſacred Calling, who are governed by Conſcience and Honour, cannot take it amiſs, that I invite them, boldly from the Pulpit, and by every other Method within their Sphere, to diſcourage theſe Incentives to Revenge; to endeavour to ſilence the preſent prevailing Spirit of Calumny and Detraction, and to reſtore that Harmony and neighbourly Affection, which is the true Characteriſtick of Chriſtianity; this is undoubtedly the Duty of every Miniſter of the Goſpel. And if Gentlemen would, in general, diſcountenance the vain Coxcomb, who has very little Merit in any Body's Opinion but his own, from entertaining a Company with Calumnies and Miſrepreſentations on the Conduct of his Neighbour, who, perhaps, is better eſteemed by themſelves on every other Account than his Politicks, the preſent unhappy Confuſion and Diſcord might ſubſide. There is no Gentleman but thinks himſelf obliged in Honour to juſtify the Reputation of his abſent Friend, when attacked; and can Party make it leſs his Duty to diſcountenance an unjuſt Attack on his virtuous Neighbour, whoſe Reaſon will not permit him to adopt his Sentiments in Religion or Politicks? Has he not a Right to judge for himſelf, without giving any Offence? I muſt confeſs, that a late Publiſher, ſtanding forth in Defence of his abſent Friend's Reputation, has given him a Place in my Eſteem which he enjoyed not before; it ſhewed a noble Inſtance of Fortitude and Friendſhip; I was really ſorry he went further; the Advertiſement was an Oddity, yet not more ſo than the Anſwer, which treated him with Contempt for having been a Mechanick. It may here be proper to mention, that Compariſons between Families often create laſting Enmity; I have ever been of Opinion, that he who can trace three Deſcents, without any Blemiſh in Reputation, goes as far back as ought to be expected by the Devotees of that Sort of Honour; it would be a difficult Taſk for the moſt opulent among us, to prove that his Anceſtors flew from the Round of Pleaſures and Luxury, which encircle a Man poſſeſſed of immenſe Wealth, and croſſed the Atlantick, purely to retire from theſe Exceſſes, and to change the Air. Since that is the Caſe, ſuppoſe the Word Family ſhould be henceforth baniſhed out of our Diſputes, as it certainly affords Matter of Ridicule almoſt as often as it is met with.

No Man has Effrontery enough to diſown, that there are among the Profeſſors of the different Religions here, and among the Gentlemen of the different Parties, Men of Integrity, poſſeſſed of many very amiable Qualifications. The Leaders, or thoſe generally eſteemed ſo, I have the Honour of ſome Acquaintance with; and it cannot, with Truth, be denied, that each is poſſeſſed of many Virtues, public and private. The great and ſhining Abilities of the one has gained him Honour in the literary World; his intimate Friends, thoſe who know him beſt, and are capable of judging, love and reſpect him. The other is eſteemed by his Friends, and he ſhews, by his Conduct, that he has a Heart freely to beſtow out of the Abundance with which Providence has bleſſed him; he is charitable, kind and benevolent. Theſe Gentlemen differ in Politics, and Thouſands intereſt themſelves on a Side. But altho' the preſent Subject of Diſpute is an important One, can it juſtify either Party in ſtripping their Opponents of every Virtue, the traducing and miſrepreſenting every Action, the ſpreading Calumnies, and charging to each other's Account Matters which never exiſted but in the Brain of the malicious Slanderer? Ought the Diſputes ſo far to influence Men of Honour, as to make them cheriſh and ſupport Miſcreants, whoſe Pens, like Tar-bruſhes, are only of Uſe to daub and blacken, and who, from Experience, are known to be Swiſs, who uſe the Sword for Pay, and are at the Service of the higheſt Bidder; who having themſelves neither Honour, Probity or Character, capable of more Stain, throw round their Dirt, and tarniſh the Reputation of Men reſpectable, and from their Kennels do this with Impunity? Conſider, Gentlemen, no Man's Character is ſafe from ſuch Attacks; they are like poiſoned Arrows, forbidden to be uſed by the Laws of War, and ought to be baniſhed from all civilized Society. That Part which moſt encourages ſuch Things, do the more diſgrace themſelves, in the Opinion of Men of Penetration, and Repentance only waits the Hours of cool Reflection in thoſe who ſet them to Work.

The Love I bear my Country, the horrid Proſpect I have of ſeeing a fixed and riveted Hatred deſcend from Father to Son, which muſt be a laſting Misfortune, and infinitely more prejudicial than any Form of Government we may expect to live under, has compelled me to preſent my Thoughts to the Public, and earneſtly to exhort them to a Change of Diſpoſitions, ſo deſtructive to Virtue, and the Good of Society; ſo contradictory to every Precept from Heaven, and irreconcilable with cool and diſpaſſionate Reaſoning on the Subject.

My Heart is more engaged to reſtore Union, and neighbourly Love, and Regard, than to carry the Views of either Party into Effect. I, who never ſollicited a Vote at the laſt Election, who have never diſobliged one worthy Man by warm Expreſſions on this Occaſion, who love Peace, Retirement, and a quiet Life, have ſet Pen to Paper, in order to alarm ſome reverend or other more able Perſon, that Calumny and Detraction may be drove from the Field, and the Land of my Nativity be ſaved from the Ruin which muſt follow, if the preſent Animoſities ſhould be permanent.

BERLIN, October 20.

IN the Assembly which the Royal Academy of Sciences held on the 14th of this Month, a Memoir was read, composed by the famous Mr, Richter, Intendant of the King's Buildings, on a new Method of Building upon the Water, and the Plans relative to the same Object were examined. The Discovery appeared so important, that it was universally applauded and approved of.

An Affair, which happened some Time since in Silesia, is likely to take a turn very much in Favour of the Boors [Farmers] in that Dutchy. One Fredericsen, who rented some Land under a certain Nobleman, who has a considerable Estate in Silesia, walking across his Farm, happened to meet his Landlord, who ordering him to do some very menial Service, though his own Servants were near at Hand, the Boor seemed to decline it; upon which the Nobleman struck him; and upon his saying he was no Slave, he was seized by the Servants, heartily drubbed, and afterwards delivered over to the Military, to be more severely punished. What would have been the End of it is uncertain, had not a Good-natured Field Officer taken Cognizance of the Affair, and discharged Fredericsen. Soon after which, it reached the King's Ear, who thereupon declared, that henceforth the meanest of his Subjects in that Dutchy, should not be punished before they were legally tried and convicted before a Civil Magistrate residing in the District to which they belong.

Malaga (in Spain) Sept. 28. There arose here in the Night between the 23d and 24th of this Month, a terrible Storm, mingled with Rain, Thunder, Lightning and Hail. In an Instant the Rivers swelled so considerably by the Fall of the Waters which rushed down from the Mountains, that they flowed again into the City, and rose in some Streets as high as the first Stories of the Houses; so that several of their Foundations gave Way. Divers Persons, and a great Number of Cattle, perished in this Inundation, which carried before it the Cellars and Magazines filled with Wines, Oil, Raisins, and other Merchandizes. The Loss is valued at 3000 Pezos, without comprehending the Damages of the Houses, which are rendered uninhabitable by this Accident. The greater Part of the Vineyards are destroyed, the Villages and their Fields are ruined, and we expect to hear News still more melancholy, which this Storm may have occasioned at Sea.

Warsaw, Oct. 20. The King of Great-Britain having been informed by the Lords Commissioners of his Treasury, that some Merchants of foreign Countries were concerned in the contraband Trade carried on in the Isle of Man, situated on the Coast of England, has ordered his Ministers residing in foreign Countries to declare, That his Britannic Majesty has resolved to make Use of the utmost Rigour to suppress that illicit Trade, so prejudicial to his Revenues, and so contrary to the good Faith which should be the Basis of true Commerce. In consequence whereof, the Resident of the King of Great-Britain at his Court has made public, that that Monarch will not for the future pay any Attention to the Complaints of the Merchants of any Nation whatever, whose Effects, sent to the Isle of Man, with the View of evading the Custom-house Duties, shall be seized and confiscated.

LONDON, October 27.

In September last the Princess Caroline Custom-house yatcht, Captain John Read, sailed from Leith for Lerwick in Shetland, with two Custom-house officers on board, to be stationed there. The ship being old and crazy they sprung a leak, and were obliged to put in at Peterhead to refit. On the afternoon of the day they sailed from thence, either by the pilot's mistake, or by the haziness of the weather, they found themselves among the breakers on the main land of Shetland; and to avoid immediate destruction, pushed into a small bay surrounded on all sides with rocks of a stupendous height. Here they luckily struck on a sand bank. In the midst of their consternation a faithful negro, whom Capt. Read had brought from the South Seas, swam off with a rope in quest of dry ground; this he found, though by the sea mark on the rocks, it was evident that it was many feet under water at full tide. By the assistance of the rope they all left the ship except one of the officers before mentioned, who being old and corpulent, chose rather to stay on board; they had lost their boat before. They then endeavoured in vain to climb the rocks, and the advance of the tide redoubled their terror. At last the negroe discovered a cleft, by which they might ascend the rock above high water mark; this cleft terminated in a hollow or grotto, where they all took up their night's abode. Next morning at ebb they descended to reconnoitre their situation, and found that the rocks, were inaccessible, nor could they any ways get round, as the rocks forming a semi-circle, extended on both sides far into the sea. They then in despair returned to their ship, where they found the officer they left on board, upon the main shrouds, from whence he had scarcely been ten minutes, before the mast came by the board, and was followed by the foremast: And now the hull worked so that they all resolved to leave her again, which they did with much difficulty, and had not been long on shore before she went to pieces. Thus they were to all appearance reduced to the alternative of starving or drowning; which carried them to a more minute examination of the rocks, when one of the sailors found a place which seemed to offer the bare possibility of ascent at the hazard of his neck, which, however, in their circumstances, was no hazard at all. He mounted, and carried a rope with him, and fastened it to the top, by which the rest got up after him. Thus being contrary to all hopes delivered, half naked, and almost perished, they sought and found a hut, where they reposed themselves, and after procured a conveyance to Lerwick.

This, though a seemingly romantic relation, is in every circumstance strictly true.

It is said the establishment of several victualling offices on the Government's account, in the principal ports of Ireland, from which may be supplied, not only the foreign, but domestic demands of the navy, with articles of wholesome, well-cured, salt provisions, under the direction of proper officers, is now upon the carpet, which, it has been computed, will be an annual saving of 100,000 l.

The French King's declaration of the 28th ult. forbidding the printing or publishing any pamphlet concerning the improvement or administration of the finances, has not been registered by the parliament of Burgundy; that Court intending to make remonstrances on the subject, because it appears to them, that a prohibitation of such a nature must be very prejudicial to the citizens of the State.

On Tuesday a young lad, belonging to a West-Indiaman lying in the river of Thames, having kindled some charcoal to air the cabbin against the Captain's coming on board, he unfortunately fell asleep, and was found suffocated, occasioned by the stench of the charcoal.

This week, a person well skilled in the nature of mines and minerals, was engaged for Minorca, in consequence of a late discovery in that island, which, it is thought, will turn out very advantageous.

We are credibly informed, the seizable goods at present in the isles of Jersey and Guernsey, from the reports of some custom-house officers, commissioned for the purpose, amount to the value of near 200,000 l.

On Friday the great match was run at New-Market, between his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland's horse King Herod, and the Duke of Grafton's Antonius, for 1000 l. and won by King Herod, by half a neck. It is thought the betts on this occasion amounted to near 100,000 l. One Gentleman in particular had a bett of 5000 l. The odds ran in favour of Antonius.

October 30.

A farmer's wife, at Black Notley, near Braintree, in Essex, who has not been married five years till the latter end of next month, has been brought-to-bed five times during that period, and had two children at a birth each time; she lay-in of the last two in July, and is now with child again. Only three of the ten are living. The ages of the husband and wife together do not amount to 43 years.

We are informed that the Dutch Colonel, who brought over the poor Palatines to England, engaged several other families, who were possessed of some property, to transport themselves to Nova-Scotia, where he was to provide for them greatly; but by this time, 'tis supposed, they may be in as bad plight as the poor emigrants were here, before the publick humanely relieved them.

We hear a very remarkable circumstance has discovered itself in the West of England: A person in the grocery business, upwards of twenty years since, purchased a hogshead of currants, upon opening of which he found a great quantity of money, supposed to amount to 10,000 l. from which lucky circumstance he retired from business, and lived elegantly. The affair was lately made public by a friend of his, with whom he had some words.

It is said that a certain Committee will be summoned to examine into the disbursements of the year.

Letters from Malaga mention a great inundation, which has done much damage there.

By letters from Glasgow it appears, the Herring Fishery has turned out this season so plentiful both there and at Aire, Dumfries, Galloway, &c. that no less than nine sail of ships are now loading at different ports in the Firth of Clyde, for Spain, Portugal, or the Mediterranean.

The plan of a new town in the island of Minorca is lately brought over, which is to be called George-Town, in honour of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. There is a good harbour, and the situation well adapted for trade.

About a month since, an eminent Counsellor in one of the Inns of Court, embarked with a young lady, sister to a member of parliament, in order to make the tour of France: On the road, the lady was taken very ill, and a physician being sent for, after some enquiry, he found her to be in labour, and advised a proper person to be called, which so alarmed the gentleman of the long robe, that he left the lady abruptly, and is not yet returned to England.

Nov. 2. On Wednesday last, by Order of a Committee from the Society for the Encouragement of Arts, &c. was tried the Machine for pulling up Trees by the Roots, in a Field behind Peterborough-house, near Parsons-green; at which were present, his Royal Highness the Duke of York, the Princes William and Henry, and many others of the Nobility and Gentry; when the first Tree was drawn up very easily; but the second, being somewhat larger, the Machine could not force it up; upon which it was taken to Mr. Coleman's Wood-yard, where it was first made, in order to make some Improvements.

It is said a Subscription will be set on Foot for encouraging the Cambrick Manufacture, now carrying on at Winchelsea; and we hear some of the best Workmen are amongst those lately arrived from French Flanders.

Nov. 6. On Wednesday Morning one Mrs. Wells coming to Town from Greenwich, was stopped on Blackheath by a Fellow dressed like a Sailor, who robbed her of Seven Shillings and her Shoe Buckles: Being offended that he met with no greater Booty, he demanded her Wedding Ring, which begging of him not to take, and even struggling to defend, the inhuman Villian, with a large Clasp Knife, cut her Finger off, and told her, that was a Reward for her Obstinacy. The Woman's Shrieks alarming a Confederate of the Robber's, who waited at some Distance, he instantly came up, and seeing what was done, cursed his Companion in the heartiest Manner for so unnecessary an Act of Cruelty, and obliged him to return whatever he had stripped her of, bound up her Hand in a Silk Handkerchief, and put two Guineas in her Pocket, towards defraying the Expence of a Surgeon.

Nov. 9. By the Lisbon mail we are advised, that the whole number of line of battle ships now building in his Portuguese Majesty's settlements in the Brazils, amount to eleven sail, viz. Three at Fernambucca, five at Rio de Janeiro, and three at Bahia.

One D---a famous cheat, supposed to be a Dutchman, but who calls himself a German, has, by various stratagems, obtained great quantities of goods from divers tradesmen; and on Tuesday last having purchased of Mr. Harler, a Watchmaker, in Porter's street, St. Ann's, Seventy pounds worth of watches, tried many schemes to get them into his possession without money, without effect, at last took Mr. Habler to his lodgings (hired for the purpose) in York buildings, and, by frivolous excuses, prevailed on him to stay till after it was dark, and then going into a back room, called Mr. Habler after him, desiring his assistance in drawing a bill, who innocently putting down his parcel of watches upon the table, and following the sharper, he presently took an opportunity to turn round and lock the deluded tradesman into the room, and then seized the parcel, and run out of the house with it, and has not since been heard of.

Nov. 10. On Wednesday died Mrs. WESTON, who kept the Ship, a Public House, near the Admiralty. It is asserted, she had long imagined she should die on that particular Day; and on Tuesday she repeated the same Opinion to her Neighbours; and accordingly that Evening she looked out a Pair of Sheets, &c. to be laid out in, and the next Morning at Eight o'Clock she died.

The damages sustained by the late inundation at Malaga are estimated at three millions of pieces of eight. The torrents came with such force from the mountains, as to overflow many parts of the city up to the first story of the houses. When the letters came away the rains had not ceased.

BOSTON, January 21.

We have Advice, that the French are settling with 4000 Persons, a Colony at a Place called the Triangles, a little to Windward of Surrinam: That they claim as far Westward as the River Marawina, a Part of which Claim is within a few Leagues of some Dutch Plantations----This Procedure of the French very much alarms their good Friends the Dutch, who have sent an Express to the States, with an Account of this Affair; as also another to the Commander of this new French Colony, to know the Reason of their forming this settlement,----This Step is more alarming on Account of the great Number of wild Negroes on the back of the Dutch Plantations, who, though at Peace now, may perhaps be made the Use of against the Dutch, as the Indians on this Continent have been against the British Settlements.

Last Wednesday Evening, just after seven o'Clock, as a Man was going over Boston-neck, he was stopped by a Fellow, who presenting a Pistol to his Breast, bid him deliver, swearing he would send a Brace of Balls thro' him instantly if he refused; but the Man replying he had but 3 Pistareens about him, he ordered him to go about his Business, and then ran of---doubtless apprehending a Pursuit, as there were a Number of People hastening towards them. He was a little Fellow, had on a surtout Coat, wore his Hat flapped before, and had a Pair of Pistols.

Last Friday Night, between 9 and 10 o'Clock, a Fire broke out in a Barn belonging to Mr. M'Neil, Baker, which almost consumed the same, and had got to such a Head before it was discovered, that it was with great Difficulty the Flames were prevented from spreading to his Dwelling-house, Bake-house, and other adjoining Buildings. It is said the Fire was occasioned by a Boy's going into the Barn in the Evening with a lighted Candle.

We hear from Portsmouth, that last Friday se'nnight Mr. John Damering and Son went from thence in a Gundelow down as far as Sandy-Beach, to fech Sand, and on their Return in the Night, lost their Way, and got into the Ice, and the Weather being severe, said Damering was so froze, that he died soon after assistance got to him, and his Son's Legs were so froze, that he has been confined to his Bed ever since.

NEW-YORK, January 28.

Our Weather, which had been very severe here for Weeks past, whereby our Navigation was in great Part stopt, was so promising for the better the fore part of last Week, that on Wednesday last between 12 and 20 Sail of Vessels, after great Struggle with the Ice, got out of the Harbour, and pushed away to Sea. A few Days before, a Sloop, Capt. Leonard, outward bound, carried off one of our Pilots, Mr. William Vandrill, because the Captain could not avoid it in a high Gale, when he got to the Hook----But, on Friday Evening last, Andromeda, (our Northern Constellation) about six o'Clock in the Evening, gave us another Attack in an Instant; so severe as to oblige many Boats going hence over the Bay, to return to Port; others jammed in the great Quantities of Ice then driving, left to Mercy, of whom we can learn but of one that with great Difficulty reached Long-Island, after Attempts had been to no effect made from the City to relieve them. The next Day five Sea Vessels attempted to squeeze out, notwithstanding the Continuance of the Gale, and Increase of Ice; among which was the Harriot Packet Boat, Captain Robinson, with the Mail for Falmouth; but she, like the Rest, was forced back; and indeed this last Blast has put a total stop to Navigation here for the present, our Pilots, it is said, refusing to take Charge of any Vessel downwards, till the Weather moderates, and our Rivers more clear of Ice; our Bay indeed of Nine Miles over, being near blocked up, the Ice having scarce any Drift.

Since our last, a Vessel from Boston, last fom Salem, Stone, Master, bound to Maryland, put in here in Distress, having been out about 50 Days.

Thursday last Mr. Michael M'Gee, and one Mr. Douglass, who had been gunning on Long-Island for some Days before, and approaching the Water opposite the City, after killing some Game, venturing too far in Pursuit thereof, both fell in, and were drowned.

Several others we are told have lost their Lives by venturing too far on the Ice in Chace of Game; their names we have not got; and others much frost-bitten, in the Neighbourhood of this City.

January 31. It seems to be the general opinion that the weather has not been so severe in this place for 20, some say 40 years past; and though the cold on the 31st of December, and 1st of January last, was very remarkable, yet it has been more intense since that time, as appears by the following observations by Fahrenheit's Thermometer, &c. communicated by the Gentlemen of King's College in this city.

1764. Dec. 31. At 7 A. M. In a close North room the Mercury stood at 11 Deg.
On opening the windows it fell to 8
1765. Jan. 1. At 7 A. M. in a close room 1
Open room the Mercury sunk all into the ball.
This afternoon, several glasses of Madeira and red port wine, froze to the bottom in 14 Minutes, and some less.
And water froze visibly in three seconds of time.
12. Near midnight, in an open room, Mercury at 1
Satur. 26. At 5 o'clock, P. M. close room, it fell into the ball, and continued so till 2 o'clock on Tuesday Morning, which was 57 Hours.

During this time it appeared, by several experiments, that the air was 6 degrees colder than what was sufficient to sink the Mercury into the ball.

On Friday afternoon last, about 3 o'Clock, Mr. Brookman, of this town, one Thomas Slack, and a Negroe of Mr. Remsend's, went off in a boat in order to shoot some water fowl, which during this hard weather have come in great numbers into the open places in the harbour, and having wounded some, pursued them till they got entangled in the ice, so that they were not able to get to land. Their distress being seen from the shore here, a boat with several hands put off to their assistance, but night coming on lost sight of them, and returned.----Mean while the people in the ice drove with the tide as far as Red Hook, and fired several guns as signals of distress. The guns were heard on shore, but no assistance could be given them. And as the weather was extremely cold, it was thought they would all have perished,---- which they themselves also expected. In this extremity they had recourse to every expedient in their power: There happened to be an iron pot and an ax on board---they cut off a piece of the boat rope, and picked it to oakum, and putting it in the pan of a gun, with some powder, catched it on fire, which with some thin pieces cut from the mast, they kindled in the pot, and then cut up their mast, seats, &c. for fuel, and making a tent of their sail, wrapt themselves as well as they could; when they found themselves nearly overcome with the cold, notwithstanding their fire, they exercised themselves with wrestling, which proved a very happy expedient, restored their natural warmth, and no doubt greatly contributed to their preservation. In this manner they passed the whole night, in which they suffered much cold, but happily escaped with life, and without being frost-bitten: Next Morning, by firing guns, they were discovered in the ice, by Mr. Seabring on Long Island, who, by laying planks on the ice for near a quarter of a mile, which otherwise was not strong enough to bear a man's weight, they all got safe on shore, without the least hurt, and returned the same day to York.

On Monday last a pedlar attempted to cross the North River from New York to Poulas Hook on the ice, and is supposed to be drowned, as we hear his hat and budget have been found, and he has not since been heard of.

And on Tuesday, Mr. Plumsted, a Gentleman of Philadelphia, and several others, were in great Danger in crossing at the same Place. When they came within 2 or 300 Yards of the Western Shore, the Ice broke with Mr. Plumsted, who with Difficulty supported himself by the Edge, till one Mr. Carter of this Town, and another ventured with a Plank near enough to fix a Boat Hook in a Handkerchief which was round his neck, and drew him out, in doing which he received some Hurt in the Face; and before he reached the Shore, the Ice broke again, but the Water was no deeper than to reach his Neck.---He was assisted again, and got safe into a House, where proper Means being used, he was yesterday well enough to proceed on his Journey.

The same day a Soldier skating on the North River, fell in, but happily rising in the same place, he supported himself by the ice, till by Means of a Plank he was with Difficulty drawn out, and got safe to land.

The late severe weather having destroyed great numbers of small birds, and seeming to threaten an extinction of the species of several sorts, at least for some years to come, in these parts, especially Quails, we hear several gentlemen have caught and purchased considerable numbers of them, which they keep in cages, properly sheltered from the cold, and feed, in order to set them at liberty in the spring, to preserve the breed.

Several Gentlemen of this City, moved by the distresses of the poor in this severe Season, have not only contributed themselves to the Relief of the most Needy, but have gone about the Town to solicit the Benefactions of others for the same charitable Purpose; and to find out and relieve the most necessitous.

Yesterday Afternoon the Post came in from Philadelphia, having crossed at the Narrows, to Long-Island, and from thence, at the East River Ferry. He brought the Mail with him, but no Philadelphia News-papers, all which he left at the Ferry on the other Side the North-River, where he had been waiting ever since Saturday last.

PHILADELPHIA, February 7.

His Honour, our GOVERNOR, has been exceedingly liberal to the commendable Charity now on Foot for the Poor; he immediately ordered them Forty Cords of Wood, and not only gave the Wood, but also, in the most generous Manner, paid for the Hawling of it from some Distance to the City, which made his genteel Present considerably more valuable----He likewise contributed a handsome Sum in Money.

"Last Week died at Germantown, Dr. CHRISTOPHER DE WIT; a Gentleman long and well known throughout this and the neighbouring Provinces, for his great Services and Abilities in the Profession of a Physician."

Captain Aſhmead, from Jamaica, informs us, that ſeveral Men of War, with ſome Troops on board, were ordered to Sea; their Deſtination not certainly known, but generally believed to be for the Bay of Honduras. And by him we have the following Extract of a Letter from Kingſton, dated November 23, 1764.

"The Men of War that arrived lately from England, are ordered (in Number four of the Line) to be in Readineſs by "Monday next, to take in 500 Troops, that are going down to "the Bay of Honduras, for the Protection of our Trade."

Captain Aſhmead likewiſe adviſes, that Captain Leybourne, in a Schooner belonging to South-Carolina, was loſt on the Grand Camines, homeward bound from Jamaica.

The Brig Charles-Town Packet, Capt. Maſon, of this Port, is arrived at the Capes from Charles-Town, in South-Carolina.

WITH a Heart impreſſed with the moſt lively Senſe of Gratitude, I return you my humble and ſincere Thanks, for the Honour you have done me in your polite Addreſs of the 15th of January, tranſmitted me to New-York by your Speaker.

Next to the Approbation of His Sacred Majeſty, and my ſuperior Officers, nothing could afford me higher Pleaſure than your favourable Opinion of my Conduct, in the Diſcharge of thoſe military Commands with which I have been intruſted.

Gratitude as well as Juſtice demand of me to acknowledge, that the Aids granted by the Legiſlature of this Province, and the conſtant Aſſiſtance and Support afforded me by the Honourable the Governor and Commiſſioners in the late Exedition, have enabled me to recover ſo many of His Majeſty's Subjects from a cruel Captivity, and be the happy Inſtrument of reſtoring them to Freedom and Liberty: To you therefore, Gentlemen, is the greater Share of that Merit due, which you are generouſly pleaſed on this Occaſion to impute to my Services.

Your kind Teſtimony of my conſtant Attention to the Civil Rights of His Majeſty's Subjects in this Province, does me ſingular Honour, and calls for the Return of my warmeſt Acknowledgments.

Permit me to take this public Opportunity of doing Juſtice to the Officers of the Regular and Provincial Troops, and the Voluntiers, who have ſerved with me, by declaring that, under Divine Providence, the repeated Succeſſes of His Majeſty's Arms againſt a Savage Enemy, are principally to be aſcribed to their Courage and Reſolution, and to their Perſeverance under the ſevereſt Hardſhips and Fatigue.

I ſincerely wiſh Proſperity and Happineſs to the Province, and have the Honour to be, with the greateſt Reſpect, Gentlemen,

LONDON, November 2.

THE following is the artifice made use of by the Tinker's trull, who came to the Farmer's house, near Upton upon Severn, in Gloucestershire, mentioned in our last. She first begged a little drink, and, with a significant stare, told the man's wife that she was born to see good days, and, if she would appoint a time when her husband and children were from home, she would tell her her fortune. The silly woman accordingly fixed two o'clock, when the Sorceress appeared, and upon coming into the house, declared there was hidden treasure, both gold and silver, which she could bring to light; "But then (says she) what money have you got, for I must have gold to fetch gold, and silver alone can produce silver." The dupe accordingly brought out all the money she was possessed of, about seven guineas in gold, a quarter of a guinea, and some silver. "There, says the Enchantress, as you are a poor woman, I return you the quarter guinea, and half the silver. Now, continued she, I will stir up the Planets, and on Friday night, in such a part of your cellar, shall you find the hidden treasure. "Was you ever at the Sacrament?" adds the Beldame: To which the terrified simpleton replied in the affirmative. "Why then, says she you must take your sacramental Oath, never to divulge this secret; for should it be known, I cannot stir up the Planets, and you will lose your treasure, and be damned eternally." After this she took the woman into the cellar, and made her kneel down and repeat the Lord's Prayer. The poor wretch then, frightened out of her wits, gave to the itinerant every thing she desired, gowns, caps, &c. as much as she could carry off. When the farmer returned, he found some thing extraordinary had happened, and his wife, coming a little to her senses, disclosed the whole affair; upon which the Tinker and his Lady were pursued, and taken at an alehouse near Gloucester. These itinerants have a child with them, by whose means, it is hoped, a most important discovery will be made, which it is not thought adviseable to mention at present.

Gloucester, Nov. 5. In our last we hinted, that a discovery of some importance was expected from the little girl who was taken up with the Tinker and his trull. This discovery respected the murder of Mrs. RUSCOMBE. The girl, who is not more than ten Years of age, voluntarily charged her father and mother with that murder; an account of which was transmitted to the Magistrates of Bristol. On Wednesday the child was sent for by them, to be more minutely examined. For five hours she persevered in her first story, but upon being confronted with people whose houses she said the Tinker had frequented, she declared that the whole was a falshood of her own invention, without any grounds of truth. It is almost incredible that a child of that age should form a scheme of this kind against the life of her parents, without any possible advantage to herself. Two gentlemen, from Bristol, have been since present at the examination of the Tinker in this city; but no circumstances have yet appeared to confirm the accusation laid against him by the child. The Tinker and his wife, who are separately confined, both agree, that they were at Salisbury at the time that villainy was committed.

BOSTON, January 28.

Last Thursday Evening, between Eight and Nine o' Clock, a Fire broke out in a small Bake-House belonging to two Dutchmen, opposite the Hay Market, at the South Part of the Town, which almost consumed the same; but by the early Assistance of the Inhabitants, a Stop was happily put to the further spreading of the Flames, tho' several Houses were greatly endangered.

NEWPORT, January 28.

The Thermometer, on Saturday Evening, at Six o' Clock, stood at 10; when the Cold increased so fast, that the Mercury fell to 1 and a Half by Ten o'Clock at Night. Yesterday Morning, before Sunrise, it was found to have descended to 4 and 3 Quarters, or nearly 5, Degrees below 0, that is, about 37 Degrees below the freezing Point; where it continued till an Hour after Sunrise. By 30 Minutes after Eleven it mounted up to 0, still 32 below freezing; and by Two P. M. it had ascended to 11, the highest Altitude of the Day. This Morning, at Sunrise, it was at 4, the same as on the First Instant, and about Nine Degrees higher, i. e. warmer, or less cold, than Yesterday Morning; when it was 2 Degrees colder than it was here in 1752, and 30 Degrees colder than it generally is in England. In the Forests of Siberia, and at Tobolski, in the Winter of 1761, Reaumur's Thermometer stood usually at 24 and 25 below the freezing Point, which corresponds to about 13 below 0 of Fahrenheit, or 5 Degrees colder than Yesterday.

CHARLES-TOWN (South-Carolina) Dec. 14.

THE following is a Translation of the French King's orders for delivering to the Spaniards all his possessions in North-America, which had not been ceded by the definitive treaty to Great Britain, from the original printed by Dennis Braud, printer to the King at New-Orleans, in October last, and published amongst all the French inhabitants.

Extract of the King's letter to M. D'Abbadie, Director General and Commandant for his Majesty in Louisiana.

"MONS. D'ABBADIE, by a special act, done at Fontainbleau, Nov. 3, 1762, of my own will and meer motion, having ceded to my very dear and best beloved cousin the King of Spain, and to his heirs and successors, in full property, purely and simply, and without any exceptions, the whole country known by the name of LOUISIANA, together with NEW-ORLEANS, and the ISLAND in which the said city is situated; and by another act done at the Escurial, November 13th, in the same year, his Catholick Majesty having accepted the cession of the said country of Louisiana, and the city and island of New-Orleans, agreeable to the copies of the said acts, which you will find hereunto annexed: I write you this letter to inform you that my intention is, That on receipt of these presents, whether they come to your hands by the officers of his Catholick Majesty, or directly by such French vessels as may be charged with the same, YOU are to DELIVER UP to the governor, or officer appointed for that purpose by the King of Spain, the said country and colony of LOUISIANA, and the posts thereon depending, likewise the city and island of NEW-ORLEANS, in such state and condition as they shall be found to be in on the day of the said cession, willing, that in all time to come they shall belong to his Catholick Majesty, to be governed and administered by his governors and officers, and as possessed by him in full property without any exceptions. At the same time I hope for the prosperity and peace of the inhabitants of Louisiana, and promise myself, from the friendship and affection of his Catholick Majesty, that he will be pleased to give orders to his governor and all other officers employed in his service in the said colony, and in the city of New-Orleans, That the ecclesiasticks and religious houses, who have the care of the parishes, and of the missions, may continue to exercise their functions, and enjoy the rights, privileges and immunities granted by their several charters of establishment: That the ordinary judges do continue, together with the superior council, to administer justice according to the laws, forms, and usages of the colony: That the inhabitants be preserved and maintained in their possessions: That they be confirmed in the property of their estates, according to the grants which have been made by the governors and directors of the colony, and that all the said grants be holden and taken as confirmed by his Catholick Majesty, even though not as yet confirmed by me.

Hoping, above all, that his Catholick Majesty will be pleased to bestow on his new subjects of Louisiana the same marks of protection and good will, which they enjoyed while under my dominion, and of which the misfortunes of war alone have prevented their experiencing greater effects; I command you to cause my present letter to be recorded in the superior council of New-Orleans, to the end that the several estates of the colony may be informed of its contents, and may have recourse thereto when necessary. And the present being for no other purposes, I pray God, Mons. D'Abbadie, to have you in his holy keeping. Given at Versailles, April 21st, 1764. Signed LOUIS, and underneath, LE DUC DE CHOISEUL."

The Spaniards are actually arrived at New-Orleans to take possession of the city and colony. Mons. D'Abbadie told the French officers they were at liberty to enter into the King of Spain's service, and at the same time informed them, that the French King had no further occasion for them. It was mentioned in a former paper that the French were sending off their military stores, ordnance, &c. so that very little, if any, would remain on the day of the cession. It is well worth notice, that the date of the act of cession is the same with that of the preliminary articles of peace, which shows that our peace makers were not so unmindful of the British interest in America, as the sowers of sedition would have us believe.

They write from St. Augustine, that the gentlemen there have subscribed upwards of two hundred guineas towards making a road for carriages from that town to Fort Barrington in Georgia, whereby a communication will be opened for all sorts of carriages between East Florida and all the provinces in America, to the northward of it.

The Duke de Choiseul having obtained a large grant of land in Cayenne, hopes to settle it with the French inhabitants of Louisiana.

The ship Dragon, Francis Hammett, master, arrived here this day from London, with 140 of the Germans formerly mentioned. We hear the said vessel sailed about the 10th of October; but the letters are not yet come up, the vessel being in the road. The Union, James Smith, master, likewise with Germans for this port, sailed at the same time with the Dragon.

Dec. 21. The new elected Commons House of Assembly of Georgia met at Savannah the 20th past, and chose the Hon. Alexander Wylly Esq; Speaker. The same day his Excellency Governor Wright made a speech to the two houses, which was answered by each with that cordiality and affection, which shows how happy they are in their Governor, and in unanimity with each other.

Governor Dobbs of North Carolina, in his answer to the address of the Commons House of that province, tells them, "he knows of no hardships their trade lies under." On the 27th past, after his Excellency had given his assent to seventeen bills, he acquainted them of his intending to depart for England in the spring; and adds, "It is with great pleasure I can inform you, that I leave the government in the hands of a Lieutenant-Governor, who will be as tender of your just rights and privileges, as he will be of strictly adhering to his Majesty's instructions, and supporting his undoubted prerogatives."

The Assembly of North-Carolina hath granted 1331 l. 6 s 8 d. to the Post-Masters General for one year, on condition that the Post-Master send a post once a fortnight throughout that province from Virginia to South-Carolina.

Letters from London informs us that a final arrangement of Indian affairs on the continent of North-America, is under consideration, and will receive the sanction of parliament this winter.

The Union, Smith, with about 180 Palatines, decoyed to England by M. Stumpel, arrived here on Sunday last; the remainder, said to be in number 35, are daily expected in the Planter's Adventure, Lowley.

Yesterday an express arrived here over land from Pensacola, with dispatches to his Excellency General Gage, Commander in chief, &c. &c. from the Hon. John Stuart, Esq; Superintendant of the Southern district of North-America.

Dec. 28. From West Florida we learn, that the Hon. John Stuart, Esq; Superintendant, and his Excellency Governor Johnstone, were to hold a general meeting with the principal headmen of the Chickesaw and Chactaw Indians at Mobille, about the beginning of this month.

The same day Capt. Gavin Cochrane, commanding his Majesty's troops in this province and Georgia, arrived here from Fort Prince George, Keowee, having been employed for some time past in visiting the forts, &c. in two provinces.

We hear the Reverend Mr. Whitefield was met at Purrysburgh by the Hon. James Habersham, Esq; President, the Hon. James Edward Powell, and Clement Martin, Esqrs. members of his Majesty's honourable council in Georgia, who conducted him to Savannah, whence he set out immediately for the orphan house, where we are told he intends to found a college, if he meets with proper encouragement.

College of Philadelphia, January 31, 1765.

IT having been represented, some Years ago, to the TRUSTEES of the College, Academy and Charitable School of Philadelphia, that many Persons, at a Distance from the City, would more willingly send their Children to this Seminary, if they could be lodged and boarded in a Collegiate Way, under the immediate Care and Inspection of the Professors and Masters; by which it was hoped the Youth would make greater Proficiency in their Studies, and the Expence be considerably less-------

The TRUSTEES do, therefore, now give Notice, that a New Building is completely finished as a Wing to the College, capable of accommodating about Sixty Students, and that the Rev. Mr. EBENEZER KINNERSLEY, one of the Professors, a Gentleman of regular and exemplary Life, hath undertaken the particular Management and Stewardship of the same. A Number of the Senior Students and Scholars are now entered into this Building; and Parents residing at a Distance are hereby acquainted that their Children, being ten or eleven Years of Age, or upwards, will be admitted into it, and the greatest Care taken of their Health, Morals and Education. For, besides the general Inspection committed to Mr. Kinnersley, the Trustees visit every Month;----the Provost, Vice-Provost and Professors will also take their weekly Turns in Visiting; and the Ushers of the several Schools lodge and board with the Youth in the said Building, to preserve the greater Decorum and Order. The plentiful and commodious Market, with which this City is blest, will give an Opportunity of providing every Thing good in its Kind; and as a regular Account of the whole will be kept by Mr. Kinnersley, and (after Examination by the Trustees or Masters) proportioned Quarterly among the Youth, without any other Charge than the prime Cost of Provisions and Firewood, with the stated Fees to the Steward and Servants, it is hoped that the Youth will be accommodated on the most easy and reasonable Terms. But if there should be, nevertheless, any Parents at a Distance, who may have any Person in Town, with whom they would particularly chuse to entrust their Children as private Lodgers, it is not intended, by this public Plan, to prevent such Persons from following their own Inclination in this Respect; the Trustees being ever desirous so to manage the Institution, as that the greatest Good may be done thereby. 2 M.

Doctor SHIPPEN, junior,

HAVING been lately called to the Assistance of a Number of Women in the Country, in difficult Labours, most of which were made so by the unskilful old Women about them; the poor Women have suffered extremely, and their innocent little Ones were entirely destroyed, whose Lives might have been easily saved by proper Management: And being informed of several desperate Cases in the different Neighbourhoods, which had proved fatal to the Mothers as well as their Infants, and were attended with the most painful Circumstances, too dismal to be related! he thought it his Duty immediately to begin his intended Course of Lectures on Midwifery, and has prepared a proper Apparatus for that Purpose, in order to instruct those Women who have had Virtue enough to own their Ignorance, and apply for Instruction, as well as all those young Gentlemen now engaged in the Study of that useful and necessary Branch of Surgery, who are taking Pains to qualify themselves to practise in different Parts of the Country, with Safety and Advantage to their Fellow Creatures.

The Doctor proposes to begin his first Course as soon as a Number of Pupils sufficient to defray the necessary Expence shall apply. A Course will consist of about 20 Lectures, in which he will treat of that Part of Anatomy which is necessary to understand that Branch, explain all Cases in Midwifery, natural, difficult, and preternatural, and give Directions how to treat them with Safety to Mother and Child; describe the Diseases incident to Women and Children in the Month, and direct to proper Remedies; will take Occasion, during the Course, to explain and apply those curious anatomical Plates and Casts of the gravid Uterus at the Hospital, and conclude the whole with necessary Cautions against the dangerous and cruel Use of Instruments.

In order to make the Course more perfect, a convenient Lodging is provided for the Accommodation of a few poor Women, who otherwise might suffer for Want of the common Necessaries on those Occasions, to be under the Care of a sober honest Matron, well acquainted with lying-in Women, employed by the Doctor for that Porpose.

Each Pupil to attend two Courses at least, for which he is to pay Five Guineas. Perpetual Pupils to pay Ten Guineas.

The female Pupils to be taught privately, and assisted at any of their private Labours when necessary.

The Doctor may be spoke with at his House, in Front-street, every Morning, between the Hours of Six and Nine, or at his Office, in Letitia-Court, every Evening.

THEY write from Algiers, that Mr. Harriſon, Commodore of the Engliſh ſquadron, has terminated with the Dey the diſpute about a ſhip that was taken under Engliſh colours, and for which the ſaid Commodore had orders to demand ſatisfaction. The Dey has reſtored the ſhip without requiring any money, which is very extraordinary, and contrary to the cuſtom of thoſe pirates, with whom every thing that falls into their hands is deemed good prize.

Dantzick, Oct 15. Letters from Ruſſia adviſe, that great quantities of ſalt-petre have been bought up there, with the conſent of the Empreſs, for the uſe of the King of Pruſſia, even to the excluſion of all other nations; inſomuch that the ſalt-petre which was put on board Engliſh and Dutch ſhips, to be ſent to other countries, had been landed again, and delivered to the Pruſſian commiſſaries.

Leghorn, Oct. 15. The following Corſican manifeſto, ſaid to have been ſworn to by Paoli and his adherents in the year 1754, and lately renewed by them, on account of the deſigned embarkation of French troops for the aſſiſtance of Genoa, is now handed about here.

"We have ſworn, and we call upon God to witneſs it, that we will all of us ſooner die than enter into any negotiation with the republick of Genoa, or return under its yoke. If the powers of Europe, and the French in particular, withdrawing their compaſſion from an unhappy people, ſhould arm themſelves againſt us, and concur in our total deſtruction, we will repel force by force; we will fight like deſperate men, determined either to conquer or die, till our ſtrength and ſpirits are quite exhauſted, our arms fall out of our hands; and when we have no ſtrength to take them up again, when all the reſources of our courage ſhall be exhauſted, our deſpair ſhall furniſh us with the laſt, which ſhall be to imitate the famous example of the Saguntines, by ruſhing voluntarily into the fire, rather than ſubmit ourſelves, and poſterity, to the inſupportable yoke of Genoeſe tyranny and ſlavery."

LONDON, November 12.

It is reported as a real fact, that one of the chiefs of the minority ſaid, upon hearing of the danger in which Mr. Churchill was thought to be, Z---s we are not only loſing our beſt heads and beſt hands, but alſo our beſt inſtruments.

Nov. 13. A letter from Bologne, by Saturday's French mail, mentions the death of the much admired Engliſh ſatiriſt, Mr. Charles Churchill, who went thither lately on a viſit to Mr. Wilkes. Some reports ſay, that his brother does not believe the advices firſt received of his death, and which were ſaid to have come from a certain popular gentleman, to be genuine. Others again pretend, that immediately on the report of Mr. Churchill's illneſs, a Right Hon. Peer ordered a cutter inſtantly to ſail for Bologne, and to wait there till it ſhould be known whether he died, or was likely to recover, and that the news of his deceaſe was firſt brought to the ſaid nobleman by this cutter. Again, others ſay, that the poet's corpſe was actually buried at Bologne, and that the meſſenger that brought the news ſaw it interred.

The entertainment at Guildhall on Friday was as elegant as was ever known on the like occaſion; and every thing was conducted with the utmoſt order and regularity. But about two o'clock on Saturday morning, ſome young gentlemen having made a little too free with the glaſs, demanded ſupper, &c. which it being thought improper to indulge them with, as it was over, and great part of the company gone, they went to the confectionary room, and not finding what they wanted, they deſtroyed great part of the confectionary, broke the glaſſes, and did other damage, to the amount of about 40 l.

Nov. 15. We hear the Government are about to contract with ſuch American ſubjects as have it in their power to ſupply, from their own manufactures, what naval or military ſtores may be wanted for the uſe of his Majeſty's fleets and armies on that ſtation, viz. cordage and cables from Boſton; anchors, chains, bombs, ordnance, cannon ball, and iron work for ſhipping, from the founderies of Quebeck.

This week ſeveral journeymen blue-makers were engaged for Carolina, where, we are informed, this manufacture is to be carried on in a very extenſive manner.

Private letters from Rome mention the receipt of ſome late authentick advices from Liſbon, which ſeem to threaten a ſpeedy ſuppreſſion of the Tribunal of Inquiſition throughout his Moſt Faithful Majeſty's dominions, both in Europe and the Indies. As this Tribunal has always been juſtly eſteemed the corner-ſtone of papal authority, the intended removal is attributed to the too great prevailing influence of ſome proteſtant princes at the court of Portugal.

It is ſaid the late Maſter of the Rolls died worth near two hundred thouſand pounds.

We are informed that the heads of a bill for the better recovery of Weſt-India debts, of eſtates by teſtament of perſons dying in the colonies, and to prevent frauds in guardians in America, is now under conſideration.

The pretended alterations in the miniſtry, as reported ſpeedily to take place, we are credibly informed are totally groundleſs.

An accurate ſurvey of the rocks, ſhoals, ſoundings, iſlands, harbours, and anchoring places, with the bearings and diſtances of the moſt conſiderable head-lands in the gulph and river of St. Lawrence, and ſhores of Labrador, has been delineated, at New-York, from obſervations taken on board the Carſon government ſhip ſent out for the purpoſe, which, it is ſaid, will be of the greateſt advantage to the future navigation of thoſe ſeas, as many dangerous places have been diſcovered, which were before unknown, or induſtriouſly concealed, while the French were in poſſeſſion of Canada.

From a late ſurvey of the iſland of Cape Breton, the engineers have declared, that the fortifications of that place are capable of far greater improvements, which, as this iſland has juſtly been reckoned the key to the fiſheries and the gulph of St. Lawrence, it is ſaid, will be accompliſhed early in the ſpring.

The body of the late Mr. Churchill, which was interred at Dover the 12th inſt. was brought thither on the 10th from Bologne by Humphry Coates, Eſq; who immediately after giving orders concerning it, ſet out for London.

We are credibly informed, that the final purchaſe of the Iſle of Man to the crown, is now upon the carpet.

Nov. 17. The Earl of Halifax having appeared to the actions brought againſt him and ſeveral of his Majeſty's meſſengers, by Mr. Beardmore and his clerk, the Rev. Mr. Entick, and Meſſrs. Wilſon and Fell, for falſe impriſonment; it is imagined that theſe five cauſes will be tried at Weſtminſter-Hall, the ſittings after this term.

On Thurſday the will of the late Right Hon. Sir Thomas Clarke, Maſter of the Rolls, was opened, in which are the following legacies, viz. The Earl of Macclesfield reſiduary legatee. To St. Luke's Hoſpital, 30,000 l. To Mr. Sendon, one of his executors, 1000 l. To Mr. Turner, his train-bearer, 400 l. And to each of his other ſervants, 20 l.

The remains of the late Mr. Churchill were interred at Dover on Monday laſt. He was ſeized with a violent cold and fever on the 29th ult. and died on Sunday following, the 4th of November inſtant.

It is thought that the Attorney-General will ſucceed his Honour the Maſter of the Rolls, and that the Hon. Mr. Yorke will reſume the office of Attorney-General.

The Beulah, Green, from New-York for London, was loſt the 12th inſtant off Biddeford; the maſter and ſeveral of the men were drowned. On board the above ſhip Col. Aires, who has been chief engineer for ſeveral years in America, was a paſſenger, and was drowned. Only three lives were ſaved.

Since the firſt inſtant upwards of twenty ſhip-carpenters, who among many others had been inveigled ſoon after the peace to enter into the French ſervice, on promiſe of high encouragement, have returned home heartily ſick of their late expedition.

A new ſett of Engliſh Mediterranean paſſes are now making out, which will not be ſo liable to be clandeſtinely made uſe of as the old ones; duplicates of which are ſent to the ſeveral Barbary ſtates, to prevent farther diſputes in the Mediterranean.

The late Mr. Churchill has left his manuſcripts to Mr. Wilkes; ſuch of them as he ſhall approve, to be printed. And we likewiſe hear Mr. Wilkes is writing the Hiſtory of England from the Revolution.

It was this morning reported, that certain advice had been received of the death of the old Chevalier de St. George at Rome.

It is ſaid the ſeveral Britiſh artizans and ſubjects now reſiding in France and Spain, will be ſoon ordered home by proclamation, for the greater encouragement of our own manufactures.

We hear ſeveral additional forts are ordered to be built on the Coaſt of Guinea, for the better ſecurity of the African trade.

It is again aſſerted, that the Earl of Bute will be appointed Lord Chamberlain.

Margate Roads, Nov. 7. Laſt night we had a hard gale of wind here at S. S. W. and this morning ſeveral ſhips in the roads hung out ſignals of diſtreſs. The Charlestown, Capt. Simpſon, bound to Penſacola, in Weſt-Florida, with Giles Philips, Eſq; and family on board, going to make a ſettlement at Mobille, hung out a ſignal, and fired a gun of diſtreſs, being in the utmoſt danger of driving aſhore, and every ſoul on board periſhing, parted from her cable, and ran into the Pier here, where they all got ſafe on ſhore.

Thurſday laſt the Rev. Mr. WHITEFIELD ſet off by way of Purryſburgh for Charleſtown, having ſince his arrival here preached every Sunday (except one at Midway) in our church to numerous congregations, and been engaged in preparing the Orphan-houſe for his intended purpoſe of founding a college; in conſequence of which, he preſented to his Excellency in council, a memorial requeſting an addition of land towards an endowment, which was readily and chearfully complied with. But as that reverend gentleman's memorial will beſt ſhew the end of his generous views to promote the general good of mankind, as well as the particular intereſt of this province, we have, for the ſatisfaction of our readers, obtained a copy thereof, as well as of an addreſs of both houſes of aſſembly to his Excellency the Governor on that occaſion, and his Excellency's anſwer thereto.

To his Excellency JAMES WRIGHT, Eſq; Captain-General and Governor in chief of his Majeſty's province of GEORGIA, and the members of his Majeſty's council in the ſaid province,

The MEMORIAL of the Rev. GEORGE WHITEFIELD, Clerk.

SHEWETH,

THAT about 25 years ago, your memorialiſt, aſſiſted by the voluntary contributions of charitable and well diſpoſed perſons, at a very great expence, and under many diſadvantages, did erect a commodious houſe, with neceſſary out-buildings, ſuitable for the reception of orphan and other poor and deſerted children; and that with the repair of the buildings, purchaſe of negroes, and ſupporting a large orphan family for ſo many years, he hath expended upwards of twelve thouſand pounds ſterling, as appears by the accounts, which from time to time have been audited by the magiſtrates of Savannah.

That your memorialiſt, ſince the commencement of this inſtitution, hath had the ſatisfaction of finding, that, by the money expended thereon, not only many poor families were aſſiſted, and thereby kept from leaving the colony in its infant ſtate, but alſo that a conſiderable number of poor helpleſs children were trained up, who have been, and are now uſeful ſettlers in this and other neighbouring provinces.

That, in order to render the inſtitution aforeſaid more extenſively uſeful, your memorialiſt, as he perceived the colony gradually riſing, hath, for ſome years paſt, deſigned within himſelf to improve the original plan, by making further proviſion for the education of perſons of ſuperior rank, who thereby might be qualified to ſerve their king, their country, and their God, either in church or ſtate. That he doth with inexpreſſible pleaſure ſee the preſent very flouriſhing ſtate of the province, but with concern perceives that ſeveral gentlemen have been obliged to ſend their ſons to the northern provinces, who had much rather have them educated nearer home, and thereby prevent their affections being alienated from their native country, and alſo conſiderable ſums of money from being carried out of this into other provinces.

Your memorialiſt further obſerves, that there is no ſeminary for academical ſtudies as yet founded ſouthward of Virginia, and conſequently, if a college could be eſtabliſhed here (eſpecially as the late addition of the two Floridas renders Georgia more centrical for the ſouthern diſtrict) it would not only be highly ſerviceable to the riſing generation of this colony, but may probably occaſion many youths to be ſent from the Britiſh Weſt-India iſlands, and other parts. The many advantages accruing thereby to this province muſt be obvious to all.

From theſe conſiderations your memorialiſt is induced to believe, that the time is now approaching, when his long projected deſign of further ſerving this his beloved colony, ſhall be carried into execution. That a conſiderable ſum of money is intended very ſpeedily to be laid out in purchaſing a large number of negroes for the further cultivation of the preſent orphan-houſe and other additional lands, and for the future ſupport of a worthy able preſident, profeſſors and tutors, and other good purpoſes intended.

Your memorialiſt therefore prays your Excellency and Honours to grant to him, in truſt for the purpoſes aforeſaid, two thouſand acres of land on the north fork of Turtle river, called Leſſer Swamp, if vacant, or where lands may be found vacant ſouth of the river Alatamaha.

Dec. 18, 1764.

To his Excellency JAMES WRIGHT, Eſq; Captain-General and Governor in Chief of his Majeſty's province of GEORGIA.

The ADDRESS of both Houſes of ASSEMBLY.

May it pleaſe your EXCELLENCY,

WE his Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Council and Commons Houſe of Aſſembly of Georgia, in General Aſſembly met, beg leave to acquaint your Excellency, that, with the higheſt ſatisfaction, we learn the Reverend Mr. George Whitefield has applied for lands, in order to the endowment of a college in this province.

The many and ſingular obligations Georgia has continually lain under to that reverend gentleman, from its very infant ſtate, would, in gratitude, induce us, by every means in our power, to promote any meaſure he might recommend; but, in the preſent inſtance, where the intereſt of the province, the advancement of religion, and the pleaſing proſpect of obtaining proper education for our youth, ſo clearly coincide with his views, we cannot, in juſtice, but requeſt your Excellency to uſe your utmoſt endeavours to promote ſo deſirable an event; and to tranſmit home our ſincere and very fervent wiſhes for the accompliſhment of ſo uſeful, ſo beneficent, and ſo laudable an undertaking.

By order of the Upper Houſe,
Dec. 20, 1764. JAMES HABERSHAM, Preſident.

By order of the Commons Houſe,
ALEX. WYLLY, Speaker.

His EXCELLENCY's ANSWER.

GENTLEMEN,

I AM ſo perfectly ſenſible of the very great advantages which will reſult to the province in general from the eſtabliſhment of a ſeminary for learning here, that it gives me the greateſt pleaſure to find ſo laudable an undertaking propoſed by the Reverend Mr. Whitefield. The friendly and zealous diſpoſition of that gentleman to promote the proſperity of this province has been often experienced, and you may reſt aſſured that I ſhall tranſmit your addreſs home, with my beſt endeavours for the ſucceſs of the great point in view.

Dec. 20, 1764. JAMES WRIGHT.

CHARLES-TOWN (South-Carolina) January 4.

THE laſt advices from the Cherokee country inform us, that every thing continued quiet amongſt thoſe Indians. Ottaſſite, or Judd's Friend, who went with a party ſome time ago to intercept the ſupplies which it was ſuſpected the French were ſending to the enemy Indians, was not returned, nor had any accounts been received from him.

Major Loftus was preparing in Nov. laſt, to go up the Miſſiſippi to take poſſeſſion of Fort Natchez, the Illinois and other poſts. The 34th regiment goes to Mobille inſtead of the 22d. Captain John Ormſby, of the 35th, is appointed Major thereof in the room of Major Forbes, appointed Lieutenant-Colonel.

From the Creek country they write, that the Mortar has declared his deſire of having no trade but with this province and Georgia, by the old Auguſta path.

Jan. 11. Laſt week a number of waggons arrived in town, by direction of his Honour the Lieut. Governor, in order to carry up ſome of the Germans lately arrived here with their arms, and other neceſſaries, and accordingly about fifty of them are ſet out for the lands allotted them on the Long Canes ſettlement, about 20 miles W. N. W. from the French ſettlement of Hillſborough.

The laſt accounts from Weſt-Florida are of Nov. 30, when every thing was in a fair way of being adjuſted with the Indians, in regard to the extent of the Britiſh ſettlements there. The Spaniſh trade went on briſkly ſince Governor Johnſtone's arrival. All kinds of live ſtock, ſheep for breed, &c. bring a good price.

William Gerhard de Brahm, Eſq; appointed ſurveyor general of the ſouthern diſtrict of North-America, has engaged a veſſel, well manned, and victualled for 18 weeks, in order to proceed from Savannah in Georgia, to make a ſurvey of coaſt and main from St. Auguſtine to Cape-Florida. The ſouthern and northern diſtricts of America are divided by the river Potomack, and a due weſt line drawn from the head of the main branch of that river, as far as his Majeſty's dominions extend.

On Saturday laſt his Majeſty's ſhip Tryal, commanded by James Wallace, Eſq; arrived here from a cruize. The ſalt rakers have been reſettled peaceably on Turk's iſland for a conſiderable time paſt; and we hear the loſs they ſuſtained has been liquidated by his Excellency Governor Lyttleton, and the Count d'Eſtaing.

The culture of hemp increaſes in this province. Since January laſt the Public Treaſurer has paid the bounty upon little leſs than one hundred thouſand pounds weight. The bounty is about ten ſhillings three pence ſterling (71 s. 8 d. currency) on every 100 lb.

The Count d'Eſtaing, Governor-General of Martinico, &c. ſays he has received certain advices that our court has ſent four ſhips of the line, with two regiments, in order to ſettle and fortify the iſland of Rattan.

Jan. 18. The quantity of hemp raiſed in this province which received the bounty in 1763 was more than double of what received it in 1762, the quantity in 1764 exceeded that of 1763 in a ſtill greater proportion, and we have the greateſt reaſon to expect an equal increaſe in the quantity brought this year before the inſpectors.

This day the Rev. Mr George Whitefield arrived here from Georgia.

Jan. 25. The Rev. Mr. George Whitefield preached thrice this week in the New England meeting houſe to very numerous audiences; he is to preach in the ſame place on Sunday next, and on Monday he ſets out again for Georgia, and preaches in his way at Ponpon and Purryſburgh. We hear he propoſes returning to the northward, from this place, about the beginning of March.

From a late account taken of the white men in Charleſtown from 16 to 60 years of age, it appears they have increaſed in number, within the laſt four years, three hundred and ſixty. The total increaſe of white inhabitants in that period is thought to be near two thouſand.

A plan is under conſideration by his Majeſty's poſt maſters general in Great Britain, and will ſpeedily be carried into execution, for the more effectual, ſafe, and ſpeedy conveyance of letters, &c. by poſt, between and throughout all his Majeſty's extenſive dominions in North-America.

By the Ship HAMILTON, Captain WHITE, from Falmouth, we have the following Advices, viz.

WARSAW, October 20.

WE are very eaſy with regard to the invaſion of the Pruſſian troops, the King of Pruſſia having withdrawn them all, and promiſed to make ſatisfaction for any damage they may have occaſioned. It is ſaid that the Empreſs of Ruſſia wrote to his Pruſſian Majeſty upon this ſubject in very ſtrong terms.

Ratiſbon, Nov. 1. The Imperial and Pruſſian ſoldiers, who are beating up here for recruits, came to blows a few days ago, and cut one another pretty handſomely. This affair will probably have very great conſequences.

Madrid, Oct. 30. The Earl of Rochford, Ambaſſador from the King of Great-Britain, had, on the 19th inſtant, a private audience of the King, to whom he communicated his diſpatches, in which his Britannick Majeſty declared how much ſatisfied he was with the reſolution this Court had come to, in reſpect to the cutting of Logwood in the Bay of Honduras, and with the diſpoſition ſhewn to cultivate a good underſtanding between the two Crowns. It is ſaid, nevertheleſs, that this Miniſter received, at the ſame time, orders to inſiſt on the loſſes being repaired, which were ſuffered by ſome few particulars.

Warſaw, Nov. 4. The Nuncios of this diſtrict when they were elected, received inſtructions to inſiſt on the three following points at the Coronation Diet: 1. The reconciliation of the Clergy with the Nobleſſe. 2. That no foreigner ſhall enjoy the right of a native. 3. The abolition of the Capitation Tax in the Province of Warſaw.

Berlin, Nov. 14. The Britiſh Envoy to Ruſſia is to ſtay for ſome Days at Warſaw, but it is ſaid that under the cloak of complimenting the new elected Monarch, he is to negotiate an affair of the utmoſt importance with the Poliſh Republic; and it is whiſpered here, that he has a commiſſion to engage a body of ten thouſand Polanders, to be ready in caſe of an emergency; from which it is reaſonably conjectured, that the Engliſh themſelves do not imagine the peace will prove extremely permanent.

Vienna, Nov. 17. The marriage of the King of the Romans with the Princeſs of Bavaria is reſolved on. Their Majeſties have conſented to it, and the 15th inſtant a ſpecial courier ſet out for Munich, to carry the ratification to the Count de Podſtaſky, the Imperial Miniſter there; and the Count de Caunitz will ſoon go thither, with the letters demanding that Princeſs. Next month the marriage will be publickly declared.

Hamburgh, Nov. 22. By the late fire at Konigſberg, 22,000 buſhels of flour, and upwards of 1000 tons of ſalt, that were in ſix of the King's magazines, were conſumed. The fire, which happened in the night, was occaſioned by lightening that fell upon the old Town and the Munikenhoff, from whence it ſpread itſelf like a torrent. The whole damage is eſtimated at ſeveral millions. Numbers of people, particularly in the royal hoſpital, periſhed in the flames.

Liſbon, Oct. 30. By a ſhip lately arrived from the Eaſt-Indies, we learn, that Ali Cawn has made himſelf maſter of our poſſeſſions in the neighbourhood of Goa, from whence we get our pepper; and as this ſhip brought none of that ſpice, the price of it is riſen almoſt cent. per cent.

Stockholm, Nov. 12. Some Propoſals, it is whiſpered, have been lately laid before our Miniſtry, for purchaſing a Tract of Territory in America from the Crown of England, as our little Connection with that Quarter of the Globe is looked upon as extremely prejudicial to the Trade of this Kingdom.

Madrid, Nov. 13. It is ſaid that ſome Clouds are riſing between our Court and that of Liſbon.

Hamburgh, Nov. 27. Our Letters from Konigſberg, the Capital of the Kingdom of Pruſſia, adviſe, that the Fire there of the 11th and 12th of this Month, has conſumed 700 private Houſes, the great Hoſpital, five Churches, ſix of the King's Magazines, and ſeveral others belonging to Merchants.

They write from the Lower Elbe, that an Earthquake has ſwallowed up thirty Arpents of Ground in the Environs of that River, and left inſtead thereof a Lake of the ſame Superficies, but upwards of forty Fathoms in Depth.

Vienna, Nov. 21. If we may credit ſeveral private Advices, the Turks continue to make great Preparations for War; but they do not inform us with what View theſe Preparations are made.

Brandebourg, Nov. 21. Some Advices from Poland ſpeak of an Accommodation between that Crown and the Court of France. The latter has demanded, I. That the Staroſte of Zips ſhould be conferred on Prince Xavier of Saxony. II. That they aſſign Prince Charles a Penſion on Courland. III. That Poland engage in no Alliance againſt France and Vienna. IV. That all the Poliſh Magnates who have oppoſed the Diet of Convocation, ſhould be re-eſtabliſhed in their reſpective Dignities.

LONDON, November 20.

A very great perſonage, who was lately indiſpoſed, on being informed that his illneſs was univerſally lamented by the kingdom, replied, as we are aſſured, "Alas! what confidence is to be placed in popular applauſe, ſince the man who enjoys it to-day, may, from prejudice or miſtake, be made to-morrow the object of univerſal deteſtation."

It is confidently ſaid the Court of Madrid has finally propoſed ſuch terms of payment for the ranſom of the Manillas, as our Miniſtry, conſiſtent either with their own honour, or that of the nation, can by no means accept.

It is ſaid that the Court of Great-Britain will remonſtrate, by the Earl of Hertford, at Verſailles, againſt landing any French troops in the iſland of Corſica; and if this application ſhould prove ineffectual, that Commodore Harriſon will have orders to appear, with his ſquadron, before Genoa to the ſame purpoſe, with the additional circumſtance of remonſtrating by the mouth of his cannon, if the other means ſhould fail.

Mr. Williams is committed to the King's Bench, and will receive ſentence the firſt day of next term, for re-publiſhing the North-Briton, No. 45, in volumes.

Nov. 29. Private advices from France mention, that the Spaniards have actually an army of twenty-five thouſand men in the neighbourhood of Malaga, which occaſions much ſpeculation.

Extract of a Letter from Copenhagen, Nov. 12.

"It is propoſed to render his Daniſh Majeſty's iſlands in the Weſt-Indies a general magazine for all the nations in Europe trading to thoſe parts, in conſequence of which ſeveral ſhips have already ſailed, and others are loading in the different ports of this kingdom, with all ſorts of ammunition, military and naval ſtores, for the iſland of St. Thomas and Santa Cruz.

It is much ſuſpected that Spain, in conjunction with France, are meditating new broils in Europe, and that Portugal is the firſt object for attack; and we hear our government are apprehenſive of ſomething of this ſort; and we further hear, that by their prudent management, there is not leſs than two millions of money now in the exchequer, ready againſt any emergency.

We are told that ſome Peers will be ſhortly made among the commoners in the Minority, which muſt not only decreaſe their number, but alſo leave an opportunity for filling their places with perſons of very different ſentiments in a great aſſembly.

A Letter from Portſmouth ſays, that a very ſtrict guard is kept at the dock yard there, and centinels are placed in every part of it, at 100 yards diſtance from each other. All perſons coming into the yard are examined. This precaution is taken on account of private intelligence received from France, that ſome perſons intend ſetting fire to it. On the 6th Instant, in the Night, the House of George Brown, Millwright, in Kennet, Chester County, was entirely consumed by Fire, when two young Women were burnt to Death, and all the Furniture destroyed, except one Bed, and a Box, with some Papers in it. His Children were then under Inoculation for the Small-pox, and there being a Fire in an upper Room where they lay, and a wooden Flooring under Part of the Hearth, it is thought the Fire burnt through, catched that Flooring, and got to such a Height before it was known, that it was with the greatest Difficulty any of the Family were saved, it being an old Frame Building. Brown himself was the first that happened to awake, and running down Stairs, on opening a Room Door where the Fire was burning very fiercely, it burst out with great Violence, the Smoke of which, it is supposed, stifled the young Women as they lay in Bed, Part of one of their Bodies being found in the same Posture she was thought to lye in. Upon this he went up Stairs again, and bursting out a Window, hung at it by one Hand, and with the other handed down his three Children, as they were brought to him; and his Wife got also safe out by his Assistance. Two of his Apprentices jumped out at a Garret Window on the hard Ground, by which they were much hurt, but are likely to do well; and two other Apprentices got out unhurt from the lower Part of the House.

YE Wise, instruct me to endure
An Evil which admits no Cure;
Or how this Evil can be borne,
Which breeds at once both Hate and Scorn.
Bare Innocence is no Support,
When you are try'd in Scandal's Court.
Stand high in Honour, Wealth or Wit,
All others who inferior sit,
Conceive themselves in Conscience bound
To join, and drag you to the Ground.
Your Altitude offends the Eyes
Of those who want the Pow'r to rise.
The World, a willing Stander-by,
Inclines to aid a specious Lie:
Alas! they would not do you Wrong,
But all Appearances are strong.
Yet whence proceeds this Weight we lay
On what detracting People say?
For let Mankind discharge their Tongues,
In Venom, till they burst their Lungs,
Their utmost Malice cannot make
Your Head, or Tooth, or Finger ake;
Nor spoil your Shape, distort your Face,
Or put one Feature out of Place;
Nor will you find your Fortune sink,
By what they speak, or what they think;
Nor can Ten Hundred Thousand Lies
Make you less virtuous, learn'd or wise.
The most effectual Way to baulk
Their Malice, is ------ to let them talk.

As it may therefore be satisfactory, he proposes to keep open his Singing-school, for the Reception of every Person of Repute, the first Monday of every ensuing Month.

N. B. There will, at the same Time, be repeated some Speeches by the Pupils of said School. ⊖

THIS is to inform the Public, that the Subscriber has, by taking Pains himself, and getting Information from others, acquired the Art of making the celebrated ÆOLIAN HARP to great Perfection. This Instrument hath long been held in great Esteem; by it the Ear may be regaled with the most dulcet and harmonious Sounds, without the Trouble and Expence of acquiring any Knowledge in Music; by placing it in the Window of a Chamber or Hall, with the Sash a little elevated, so that the Wind may pass gently over the Strings, it emits Sounds of so delicate a Nature, that the most painful Head-ach is not offended by them, but rather lulled and composed.--- But much need not be said to recommend an Instrument, which some of the most celebrated English Poets have mentioned with so great Applause. Æolian Harps at Ten Shillings each, fitted for immediate Use, are to be had at the said Subscriber's, in Walnut-street, between Fourth and Fifth-streets. ✿ DAVID LYNN.

Containing the Freshest Advices, Foreign and Domestic.

TURIN, October 27.

THE French troops destined for Corsica, are now quite ready at Toulon, expecting every day final orders to embark: And the 18th instant a Genoese galley, with five large barks, sailed from Genoa for Bastia, to bring back the troops of the Republic, as soon as the French shall have taken possession of those places which they are to garrison.

Genoa, Oct. 22. We have advice from Corsica, that on the 14th of this month, seven men of the garrison of the tower of Erbalonga, which is in the hands of the rebels, rose against the Commandant, and killed him. The troops of the rebels fearing that those of the Republic would take advantage of this disorder to regain that post, repaired thither immediately, and put to death the two ringleaders of the revolt.

Bagdad, in Turkey, June 17. We have just received an account of the defeat of the Arabs, named Benjams, who had taken advantage of the late troubles to plunder the neighbouring villages. Abdalla Kiaya attacked them with 4000 cavalry, killed many of them, and took upwards of 2000 of their tents. The same officer was preparing to go to chastise the Arabs who inhabit the borders of the Euphrates, and who have likewise committed many disorders.

We learn by the last letters from Persia, that there have been two conspiracies against Kerim Kan, but that that Prince having had timely notice thereof, had put to death the General of his armies, and the Chief of his eunuchs, who were at the head of the conspirators; since which, tranquility is perfectly re-established in the kingdom.

August 12. Yesterday we received advice, by a courier from Bassora in eight days, that Mahmout Kyaya had been arrested there, and closely guarded. This Mahmout, who was Governor of Bassora when Ali Pacha was massacred, attempted to dismember that government, and to render it independent of that of Bagdad; and in case he should not be able to complete his design, he had taken some precautions for his own safety, and to secure the immense riches, which, it is said, he had acquired by his extortions. Omar Pacha, deprived of the revenues of the government of Bassora and its dependencies, not being able of himself to subdue this rebel, had recourse to the chief of the Arabs, named Moutesicks, and neighbours of Bassora. The latter invested the city the 28th of July, and at first met with some resistance, but on producing the orders of the Pacha, who only demanded the detention of the Governor, he was clapped into irons, and delivered up immediately.

Petersburgh, Oct. 19. It is reported that a camp of 40,000 men will be formed in this neighbourhood next spring.

Warsaw, Oct. 20. We learn from the frontiers of Turkey, that 20,000 Spahis, and 30,000 Janissaries, drawn from the garrison of Choczim, Widin, Oczakow and Bender, have assembled themselves in a body, but with what motive is not known. It seems only that the Ottoman Court continues to pay attention to the stay which the Russian troops make in Poland; and the Sieur la Roche, who is charged with the affairs of the Prince de Moldavia, has had orders to represent to Prince Repnin the uneasiness of the Porte upon this subject. The Russian Minister has promised that Stanislawow, Brody, and Szamoize shall be immediately evacuated; and further, that he will write to his Court, to desire that all the Russian troops may quit this kingdom.

Lower Elbe, Nov. 3. France is buying up a great number of horses of remount in Holstein, which are immediately conducted to Alsace.

Paris Nov. 5 We have received an account of the imposition which have been laid upon the inhabitants of the colony of St. Domingo; which will produce the sum of 4,000,000 of livres yearly.

Ratisbon, Oct. 25. The Elector of Cologne, as Metropolitan of Osnabrug, has published a Protest against the pretensions of the Chapter of that Bishoprick to the administration of spiritual affairs during the minority of the Prince Bishop, son of the King of Great Britain; and, in consequence, his Serene Highness has nominated to exercise the said administration on his part, the Honorary Bishop of Ahausen, with the title of Pontifical Vicar, and the Dean and Canon Charles de Vogelius, with that of Vicar General; ordering all the inhabitants and subjects of the Bishoprick to acknowledge them as such, on pain of ecclesiastical censure, &c. The Chapter of Osnabrug is also in litigation with the King of Great Britain, in his quality of father and guardian to the young Prince Bishop, concerning the temporal administration, and the presentation of the commitial suffrage in the Dyet of the Empire.

Paris, Nov. 10. Seventeen Engineers set out the first inst. for Port L'Orient, to embark on board the Gracieuse, appointed to carry East-India troops and stores for the islands of Mauritius and Bourbon.

Warsaw, Nov. 3. The Noblesse of this Palatinate, on the 29th ult. elected Prince Czartorinski, son to the Great Veneur, and M. Subolewski, Chamberlain to the King, to assist as Nuncios at the Coronation Dyet.

Turin, Nov. 10. The Malecontents of Corsica, finding their progress in the attack of St. Fiorenzo did not promise them a speedy success, raised the siege of that place last week, and have retired to the interior parts of the country.

Vienna, Nov. 7. We are assured that the States of Hungary have made the Empress a new Grant of 300,000 florins per annum.

Hamburgh, Nov. 23. We are credibly informed, by recent letters from Constantinople, that the French and Austrian influence, with regard to the affairs of Poland, begin to weaken considerably with the Ministers at the Porte. A powerful northern Prince has been indefatigable in the interest of Stanislaus III. the good effects of which have already appeared in the sudden filing off of a large body of Turks towards the Ukrain, which for some time past have been hovering on the southern frontiers of Poland.

Paris, Nov. 10. We learn from Brest, that this week a 64 gun ship was launched there; and they continue, without making any bustle, to build other ships of war in all our ports on the ocean.

Nov. 15. It has been computed, from an estimate sent over by the late New-York mail, that five hundred pieces of iron ordnance, great and small, will be required to fortify the most important frontier passes, extending from the forks of Delaware to the western confines of that province, including the cannon to be put on board the several armed vessels for the greater security of navigation on the lakes Erie, Ontario, and Michigan.

Letters from Berlin say, that his Prussian Majesty is very intent on recovering the subjects he lost from several parts of his dominions, through the hardships brought upon them by the late war; and for that purpose has proposed very advantageous terms, and a considerable diminution of taxes, to such as will return and cultivate their former possessions.

Extract of a letter from Algiers.

"The marine of this place really begins to appear formidable, considering their Mediterranean situation, which makes it appear the more strange, that European Princes should continue to supply the Dey with ammunition and naval stores; exclusive of the numerous cruizers now at sea, there are at present in port, one old sixty-four gun ship; two English built frigates of thirty; fourteen row gallies, and two new fifty gun ships, almost ready to be launched: He has also ship-builders from England, France, and Denmark, in abundance."

Notwithstanding the account in some of the papers, of a categorical answer being arrived from the Courts of France and Spain, relative to the payment of the subsistence money due for the prisoners of the former, and the ransom of the Manillas; both which, it was pretended, had been absolutely refused by the said Courts; We are informed, that the French Court has agreed to pay for her prisoners at three half-yearly payments, the first of which is to be made at Christmas next.

"Letters from the East-Indies, and the coast of Coromandel, bring, that they do not perceive there that the peace concluded in Europe has wrought any advantageous change in the situation of affairs; that the English continue to have the superiority in Bengal; that the Nabob, whom they had deposed lately, was retired to the other side of the Bahaar; and that having repaired to the Court of Dhilly, he had there offered a treasure of considerable value, amounting to four caroos, or four millions of roupees, besides the two bandeeses, with a quantity of diamonds and precious stones, if they would confirm him in the dignity of Souba, and support him with more powerful assistance to dispossess his rival, whom the English had put in his place. These letters assure, that this offer of the Nabob has been accepted, and that it was apparent the English would now have a new war to maintain."

Yesterday the Lord Chancellor waited upon his Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester, at Leicester-house, with his Patent, and the Gentlemen of his family were presented to him. The establishment of his Royal Highness's household is as follows:

The reason given by the Frenchman for puting in there, when he had a fair wind to carry him to Cork, was, because they had forgot to take some candles on board at Havre. In searching the passenger, a quantity of lace and ruffles were found upon him, which has been lodged in the Custom-House.

We are informed, that for the future no more 40 gun ships on the new construction are to be built in any port of the kingdom, their lower tier having been found quite useless in the least blowing weather.

It is said a scheme is to be laid before parliament for erecting, in two or three principal towns in every county in England, magazines for the reception of corn, to be purchased at times of the greatest plenty, and to be delivered out to the poor in times of scarcity, at a moderate price.

The report that the French court had now agreed to give up the affair of their claim to the French ships taken before the last war, is without foundation, that mater being given up at the treaty of peace; and what further confirms it is, that one of the articles of supply, granted for the present year 1764, was the produce of the French prizes taken before the declaration of war, amounting to 700,000l.

Should the report of Cossim Ali Cawn's having seized upon the Portuguese settlements in the neighbourhood of Goa prove true, it is said, his Most Faithful Majesty will be assisted with a powerful British force, to enable him to recover his possessions in that part of the world.

They write from Vienna, that if reports may be believed, the Turks are still making great warlike preparations, though we know not where they are to be directed.

Waterford, Nov. 8. Yesterday arrived here the Hopestill, belonging to this place, Captain Martin Sybrand, from Carthagena, who, with his people, in his protest, maketh oath, That about the 16th of May, on his voyage from Malaga and Cette, for this port, he fell in with 8 Spanish men of war, who fired on him; on which he, the said Captain, immediately hoisted English colours, which they disregarded, and continued their fire; at this time, the vessel lying under the Commodore's stern, the Captain and crew cried out for mercy, entreating him to desist, declaring themselves to be English: Notwithstanding this declaration, they fired several broadsides, which cut all their rigging and sails, and carried away both masts, the round-house, and every thing above deck, killed a gentleman passenger, belonging to Madeira, wounded the Captain in the arm, shot off Capt. Galaspy's, a passenger's arm; also mortally wounded John Hamilton, a supercargo, who died of his wounds a few days after at Carthagena, to which place they towed the said vessel in.

It is very remarkable, that a Scotch sailor on board the Commodore, during the firing on this vessel, cried out several times that they were English; for which he was directly put in irons, and got 500 lashes. The vessel, during the time, was so very near, that they could not bring guns to bear on her, or she must have been sunk. The said vessel has lain at Carthagena, from about the 20th of May until the middle of October, waiting in daily expectation of satisfaction being made by the Spanish Court; but finding it of no use to wait any longer, the Captain was obliged to sell a considerable part of his cargo to pay his men their wages and other expences, the Spaniards not allowing him a farthing, except repairing the vessel. The cargo is much damaged, and we hear the proprietors, if not relieved, will be great sufferers.

BOSTON, February 7.

Capt. Clark, in a Brig bound to Portsmouth, was cast away at Squam, near Cape-Ann, last Thursday Morning, in the Snow Storm. 'Tis said the Vessel will be lost, but most of the Cargo, and all the People saved.

Capt. Henry Wells, of this Town, in a Snow from the West-Indies, bound to this Port, with a valuable Cargo, was cast away last Thursday Morning, in a violent Snow Storm, off Cape-Ann; one Man was drowned, another had his Thigh broke, the rest with great Difficulty saved their Lives.---'Tis said the Vessel and Cargo will be lost.

NEW-YORK, February 21.

Our private Advices by the Packet are, that some Discoveries have been lately made, which have given Cause of strong Suspicion, that a Number of Frenchmen (whether with or without Authority from France we have not heard) had formed a villainous Design, which was almost ripe for Execution, whereby our Dock Yards, Vessels on the Stocks, and Naval Stores, at Portsmouth and other Places, were to be destroyed by Fire; and such a Blow given to our Naval Strength, as might have disabled us for some Time to oppose the Designs of our Enemies. In Consequence of this Discovery, we hear eight Frenchmen were taken up, and extraordinary Precautions used in all his Majesty's Dock Yards, Naval Store Houses, and Magazines in the Kingdom.

Extract of a Letter from Joseph Yeamans, late Master of the Sloop St. George, Burden 46 Tons, &c.

Norfolk, in Virginia, February 2, 1765.

"On Saturday, January the 12th, about Noon, set Sail from New-York, bound for Maryland, with a smart Gale of Wind at N. W. which obliged me to sail under a reefed Mainsail and Jib. The Wind increased, with a very large Sea, till about 6 o'Clock, 3 Leagues S. S. E. from Sandy Hook, when a double-decked Snow, called the Gordon, about 250 Tons Burden, John Pym Master, belonging to New-York, ran foul of me, whereby the Sloop's Topping-lift, Shrouds, and main Boom, were carried away, 12 Feet of her Waiste, with the Timbers, Wale, &c. stove in, and also one Side of the Longboat; the Sloop being by this Shock disabled from proceeding on her Voyage, to save our Lives, we all quitted her, and got on board the Snow, whose Cutwater and Sheathing were also much damaged; two of my Men had their Fingers frozen. Night coming on, at my Request Captain Pym agreed to lie to till Morning, to try if any Thing might be saved from the Sloop; but there was no Appearance of her, and we have Reason to think she went to the Bottom. We all arrived here in 18 Days Passage.

Norfolk (in Virginia) Feb. 2. The Schooner Sally, Woolsey Burton Master, who sailed from Amboy on the 25th of December last, bound to Indian River, was, by hard Gales of North and Westwardly Winds, blown off to the Latitude of 37, Distance to the Eastward 45 Leagues, and lost his Mainmast.

After being out 30 Days, having expended all their Provisions, except about two Bushels of Pease, and having nothing to drink for three Weeks, except their own Water, and a little they caught from Rain, they were taken up by a Schooner belonging to Piscataqua, from Barbados, Thomas May Master, bound to this Port, who has brought them in with him, but in a very weak and low Condition.

The following is a particular Account of the Loss of the Beulah, before mentioned, communicated in a Letter from Appledore, near the Place where she was lost, dated Dec. 7, 1764.

"On Saturday, the 10th of November, the Capt. had an Observation in Lat. 49, 17, and on Monday the 12th saw Lundy Isle, in the Bristol Channel, which they mistook for Portland Point, in the English Channel, bearing E. and steered Channel Course accordingly, there being then a great Fog, or Mist; when unexpectedly they found themselves imbayed in Barnstaple Bay. At 7, P. M. hove the Lead, and found seven Fathom Water; next Cast three and an Half, on which they let go both Anchors, all Sails standing, cut the Jeers, and let fall the lower and top Sail Yards: At 8 ſtruck very hard: Then hoiſted the Boat out; three Men were drowned along ſide the Ship; the reſt ſtood the Deck till 10, when they were obliged to go up the Main and Mizen Shrouds, where they ſtayed till 4 in the Morning, at which Time they came down, and went on the Forecaſtle; ſoon after which the Main and Mizen-Maſts went overboard. At 6 o'Clock, on the 13th, the Ship parted in two, when Capt. Green, Lieut. Col. William Eyres, of the 44th Regiment, Engineer, Lieut. Primroſe Kennedy, of the ſame Regiment, and eight others, were unfortunately drowned. Thoſe who ſaved their Lives, of which we hear but of three, got on Shore on Part of the Deck, amongſt whom was the Mate, Mr. Brooks, who was ſo benumbed as to require a Cart to carry him to a Houſe.----The Veſſel's Sails, Rigging, Anchors and Cables, were ſaved, as alſo the Cargo, except about Thirty Tons of Fuſtick. There is no mention made of the Caſh that was on board her."

PHILADELPHIA, February 28.

Mr. HALL,

Your inſerting the following Adverti ſement from the London Chronicle of December 8, will oblige many of your Readers.

This Day was publiſhed, Price 2 s.

With a Preface, ſuppoſed to be written by B. F. Eſq; in which ſeveral Aſperſions, thrown upon the ſaid Aſſembly in a late Piece, are wiped off.---In this Speech there breathes ſuch a Spirit of Liberty and Patriotiſm, as muſt pleaſe every diſintereſted Reader, and plainly convince him that a Migration of 3000 Miles Diſtance, cannot extinguiſh that Love of Liberty ſo natural to Britiſh Breaſts."

Capt. Davidſon, from Barbados, informs, that a Ship from Madeira to New-York, after being four Months at Sea, arrived at that Iſland the Day before he ſailed---On his Paſſage, in Lat. 36. 50. he ſpoke with a Schooner from Virginia to Antigua, out two Days; all well.

At a Meeting of the SUN FIRE COMPANY of this City, on the Twenty-ſecond Inſtant, in order to reduce the preſent high Price of Mutton in ſome Meaſure, and to promote the Growth of Sheep in this Province, as much as in them lies, it was agreed not to purchaſe any Lamb this Seaſon---And we hear a great Number of the other Inhabitants of this Place, have come to a Reſolution of the ſame Kind.

Our NAVIGATION is now quite clear; and ſince our laſt a great many Veſſels have come up, and others gone down.

One Night laſt Week, about Eight o'Clock, a Fellow went into the Houſe of Mr. Yorke, in Water-ſtreet, and carried off a ſmall Trunk, but on breaking the Lock off, and finding it contained nothing but a Parcel of Papers, he left it in a Stable in Combes's Alley.
